A move from $61.5B in March 2025 to $2T would represent one of the most dramatic valuation expansions seen around a major technology IPO.

GROWTH

Revenue has moved at extraordinary speed

Anthropic's updates show one of the fastest commercial ramps in modern technology.

What is driving it?

- Enterprise adoption across core business workflows.
- Claude Code emerging as a major commercial product.
- Distribution across AWS, Google Cloud and Microsoft Azure.
- Large-scale compute partnerships supporting continued demand.
- Expansion from individual use cases into broader enterprise deployments.

Institutional conviction at unprecedented scale

Four major rounds in 15 months transformed Anthropic's private-market valuation.
